Corporate

Our Corporate Department's work spans the full range of general corporate, transactional and regulatory representations. Our practice includes mergers and acquisitions, capital markets, leveraged finance, business restructuring and workouts, real estate, project finance, equipment finance, structured finance, asset management, intellectual property and environmental law.

We have an exceptionally strong track record advising private equity sponsors and their portfolio companies, as well as clients in the technology, media and telecommunications, banking, insurance, healthcare and life sciences, and energy industries.

Tax & Employee Benefits

Our Tax Department works closely with the firm's corporate lawyers in structuring complex transactions. The department also focuses on tax planning and advice for business entities and high net worth individuals, and includes an active executive compensation and employee benefits practice.

Litigation

Our Litigation Department handles complex matters in courts around the world, as well as before arbitration tribunals, agencies and administrative bodies worldwide. The Department includes Co-Chairs John S. Kiernan and Mary Beth Hogan; Michael B. Mukasey, former United States Attorney General and Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York; David W. Rivkin, current President of the International Bar Association; Lord (Peter) Goldsmith QC, PC, the European and Asian Chair of Litigation who served as the UK's Attorney General; and former United States District Court Judge John Gleeson of the Eastern District of New York. We are the only law firm to include former Attorneys General of both the U.S. and the UK, as well as a Queen's Counsel. Areas of concentration include white collar crime, investigations, general commercial litigation, international dispute resolution, intellectual property and media, cybersecurity and data privacy, bankruptcy, insurance industry disputes, antitrust, securities litigation and products liability.

Debevoise lawyers have represented Asia-based clients and multinational clients for decades in Asia-focused disputes and white collar matters. The firm has one of the few practices to combine investment treaty arbitration, general commercial dispute resolution and public international law experience with strong capacity in four major international arbitration centers: New York, London, Hong Kong and Paris. The firm's Asian disputes team also has deep experience in white collar and regulatory matters, working on behalf of clients in China, India, Singapore, Japan, South Korea, Indonesia, the Philippines, Malaysia, Bangladesh, Vietnam and Thailand.

Debevoise in Japan

For over sixty years, Debevoise has acted for Japanese companies engaged in a wide range of matters around the world, and for non-Japanese companies engaged in matters relating to Japan.

In 2016, we opened our first office in Tokyo, in order to provide even better service to our clients on Japan-related matters, with a core team of senior lawyers on the ground who collectively have decades of experience working in our Japan practice. The core team is supported by senior partners throughout Asia, Europe and the United States with long-standing relationships and broad experience in the region.
